ABSTRACT

This publication provides information about the cost of attending Pennsylvania colleges and universities including tuition, required fees, and room and board charges for the year 1994-95 as well as trend information for the past 10 years. Comparative national data are also provided. The main source of the Pennsylvania data was an annual survey of Pennsylvania colleges and universities. Individual tables and figures provide information on: (1) average undergraduate in-state tuition and required fees by institutional category, 1985-86 through 1994-95; (2) average annual increase in undergraduate in-state tuition and required fees, 1985-86 through 1994-95; (3) average combined room and board charges by institutional category, 1985-86 through 1994-95; (4) average annual increase in room and board charges, 1985-86 through 1994-95; (5) average basic student charges by institutional category, 1994-95; and (6) average undergraduate basic student charges in four-year institutions, United States, Pennsylvania and selected neighboring states, 1993-94. Appendices provide additional information on basic student charges, tuition and required fees for first-professional programs, and student charges by control of institution and state. Also provided are a glossary and notes on data sources and nonrespondents. (DB)

OVERVIEW

This publication provides information about the cost of attending Pennsylvania colleges and universities. It lists the tuition and required fees for undergraduate, graduate, and first-professional programs, as well as room and board charges by institution. In addition, historical data by institutional category for the past 10 years is provided for those interested in knowing the trend of these changes and how it compares with the average cost of living index during the same period. National data by state, as well as a graphic presentation of these costs for the selected neighboring states, compares how Pennsylvania ranked in relation to these states. These statistics have proven to be of interest and value to prospective college-bound high school students, guidance counselors, educational researchers, legislators, media representatives, business leaders, and other interested individuals.

The source of this data is an annual survey of Pennsylvania colleges and universities. National data was drawn from the results of a survey conducted by the U. S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). Consumer price indices were obtained from the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Note: Tuition and required fees for the Thaddeus Stevens State School of Technology were included starting in 1990-91 because Act 211 of 1990 authorized this school to grant associate degrees.

For the 12 months ending in June 1994, the rate of inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, was 2.6%. Increases in tuition and required fees in every category of Pennsylvania colleges and universities exceeded the Consumer Price Index rate. These increases parallelled the national level.

The state school of technology had the highest percentage increase in undergraduate in-state tuition and required fees for the 1994-95 academic year. Average percentage increases in private institutions were lower than the preceding year. Among public institutions, the percentage increase in state universities was half the increase reported for 1993-94. When compared to 1993-94, the increase for the state school of technology was 6.5%; private colleges and universities, 6.0%; state-related commonwealth universities, 5.6%; private two-year colleges, 5.5%; private state-aided institutions, 5.4%; state universities, 5.2%; community colleges, 3.6%; and theological seminaries, 3.1%.

...private colleges and universities had the highest average annual increase in undergraduate in-state tuition and required fees over the past 10 years...

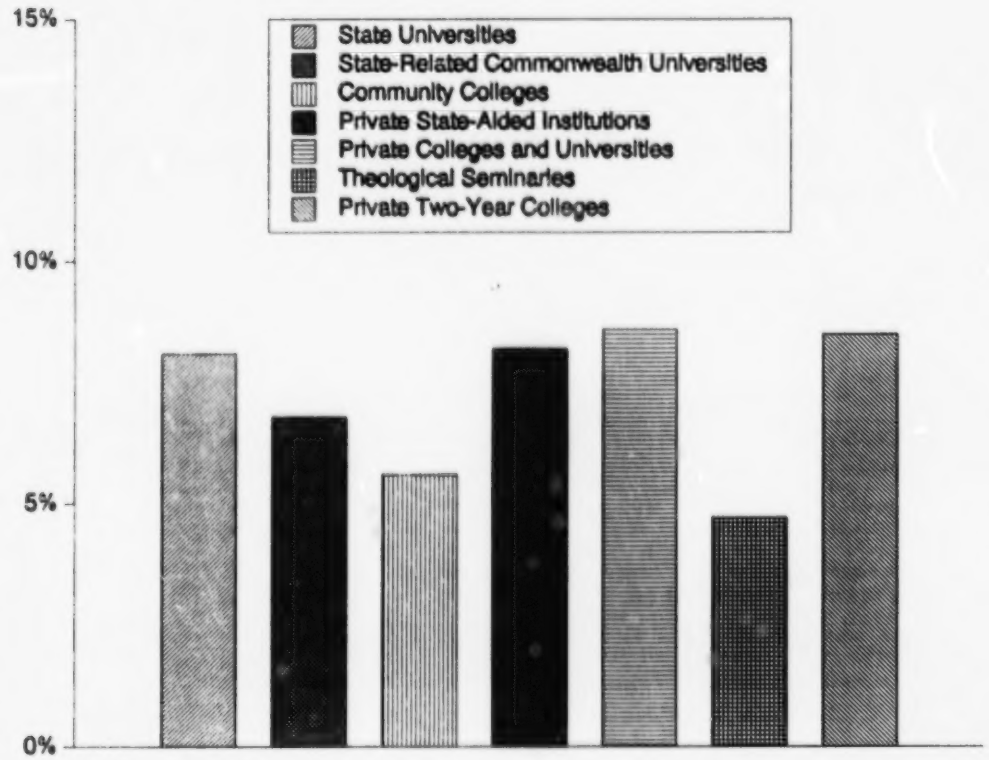
AVERAGE ANNUAL INCREASE IN UNDERGRADUATE IN-STATE TUITION AND REQUIRED FEES
1985-86 THROUGH 1994-95



Note: Average annual increase in undergraduate in-state tuition and required fees for the Thaddeus Stevens State School of Technology is not included because this school was not authorized to grant associate degrees prior to passage of Act 211 of 1990.

The average increase in tuition and required fees for each category of Pennsylvania institutions was higher than the average increase in the Consumer Price Index for the past 10 years. For example, during the period 1984-85 through 1993-94, the Consumer Price Index rose an average of 3.7% annually (1982-84=100.0), whereas the increase in average tuition and required fees was between 4.7% for theological seminaries and 8.6% for private colleges and universities. In general, increases at private institutions, except theological seminaries, were higher than at public institutions.

...private state-aided institutions had the highest average room and board charges over the past decade...

Note: 1. Community colleges are not listed here since room and board charges are not applicable.

2. Room and board charges for the Thaddeus Stevens State School of Technology were included starting in 1990-91 because Act 211 of 1990 authorized this school to grant associate degrees.

Similar to tuition and required fees, percentage increases in the room and board charges for all categories of Pennsylvania institutions were higher than the increases in the Consumer Price Index. With the exception of theological seminaries, private institutions had lower percentage increases in room and board charges for 1994-95 compared to 1993-94. The state school of technology had the highest percentage increase in room and board charges. Specifically, when compared to 1993-94, the average increases were: state school of technology, 6.9%; private state-aided institutions, 6.5%; state-related commonwealth universities, 6.2%; private colleges and universities, 4.5%; state universities, 3.7%; theological seminaries, 1.8%; and private two-year colleges, 1.6%.

With the exception of private state-aided institutions, the increases in average room and board charges in Pennsylvania colleges and universities were modest compared to the increases in tuition and required fees during the past decade. However, these increases were still higher than the average increase of 3.7% in the Consumer Price Index during the same period. The smallest average increase in room and board charges was at the theological seminaries (3.7%) and the largest average increase was at the private state-aided institutions (9.2%).

During 1994-95, average undergraduate tuition, required fees, and room and board charges at four-year colleges ranged from $6,287 per academic year for students attending theological seminaries to $20,370 for students attending private state-aided institutions. With the exception of theological seminaries, the average increases for the other institutional categories far exceeded the 1993-94 Consumer Price Index increase of 2.6%. Increases in the state school of technology jumped 6.7%, while increases in state-related commonwealth universities, private state-aided institutions, and private colleges and universities were 5.9%, 5.7% and 5.6%, respectively. State universities, private two-year colleges, community colleges, and theological seminaries showed an increase of 4.5%, 4.1%, 3.6% and 2.5%, respectively.

Pennsylvania had the fourth highest average basic student charges among four-year public institutions in the nation in 1993-94. Pennsylvania institutions in this category charged on the average $8,278 against the national average of $6,374. On the other hand, the average for Pennsylvania private four-year colleges and universities was 12th highest. These institutions charged on the average $18,118 compared to the national average of $15,958.

1/ Preliminary Data

Note: 1. A dash (-) indicates data not reported or not applicable.

2. Data are for the entire academic year and are average charges. Tuition and fees were weighted by the number of full-time equivalent undergraduates but are not adjusted to reflect residency. Room and board were based on full-time students.

APPENDIX D

GLOSSARY

BASIC STUDENT CHARGES - Includes tuition, required fees, and room and board charges for a full-time undergraduate, graduate, or first-professional educational program.

BOARD CHARGES - Charges for a 7-day meal plan. Where a 7-day meal plan is not available, 6-day or 5-day meal plans are used in calculating the averages. The averages do not include board charges at branch campuses.

CONTRACT STATE - A state having a contract with a Pennsylvania college for which students are charged a reduced tuition for certain programs. The contract state for the University of Pennsylvania is Puerto Rico. For the Pennsylvania College of Optometry, the contract states are Delaware, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia.

FIRST-PROFESSIONAL STUDENT - A student who is enrolled in a professional school or program that requires at least two academic years of college work for entrance and a total of at least six years for a degree.

REQUIRED FEES - Fees required of all students or by such a large portion of students that someone not paying the particular fee is an exception.

ROOM CHARGES - Charges based on double occupancy for a full academic year. The averages do not include room charges at branch campuses.

TUITION - The typical nine-month charge for a full-time student. Calculated averages include full-time in-state students (from sponsoring districts for community colleges) attending day school at the main campus. An exception to the main campus rule is the inclusion of the first-professional medical program at the Pennsylvania State University, Hershey Medical Center. As an additional note, community college charges for in-state students residing in nonsponsoring districts are approximately twice the listed amount for in-state students in sponsoring districts. Excluded from calculated averages are those charges listed on a credit hour or per course basis.
